

Best Practice -2019-20

Practice-I

Title: Lal Bahadur Shastri Lecture Series.

Objectives:

1. To create social, economical and liter awareness awareness among the student.
2. To boost thinking ability of the student.
3. To discuss sensitive issue related to the society.
4. To encourage a free atmosphere of discussion.
5. To make students in line with the renowned academic expert, distinctive social worker, creative writers and their opinion about certain fields of human interest/development.
6. To provide exposure of contemporary realities, histories, social service etc to the students.

The Context:

The lecture series is being organized for the last four decades. Several distinguished scholars, scientist, mathematician, fighters, economists and social workers. The practice is being conducted every year. The practice is open to students as well as to the general public as well. It is highly beneficial for the students to develop outlook towards the issues of social, economic, political, philosophical and public importance. This year Shri Narendra Chavhan motivational speaker and social worker delivered the lecture on "How to be Unique". In this one and half hour talk, he lids successfully touched every aspect of student's life in general and expected them to be disciplined, hard worker and dedicated to the better in them and in society as well.

Evidence of Success:

The practice had been initiated with a purpose to encourage students to enhance their social outlook. It is kind of platform where the contemporary, historical, literary, scientific, psychological, behavioral issues are discussed through which students get know about those issues in detail as they were discussed by the renowned and distinguishable experts of the respective fields.

Resources required:

The most important resource required is the human resource, teachers, staff, speakers and certainly students.

PRINCIPAL

Lal Bahadur Shastri Mahavidyalaya
Dharmabad. Dist. Nanded

Practice II: Title: Akshar- Annual college magazine (special issue on birth centenary of late Dr. Shankarrao Chavhan, Ex-Union Home-minister and Ex-President of Dharmabad shikshan sanstha, Lal Bahadur Shastri Mahavidyalaya, Dharmabad).

Objectives:

1. To boost the creative faculty of the students.
2. To improve objective writing sense amongst students on the issues of human interest.
3. To develop social, political, economical and educational wisdom of students.
4. To develop logical and creative aptitude amongst students.
5. To inculcate creative and thoughtful writing habits amongst students.
6. To provide the medium for the expression of thoughts, creativity and information.
7. To provide a platform for students to express them selves through various forms of writing like research articles, scientific and social bloggings on current issues and creative writings.
8. To provide the students and exposure to contemporary realities.

The Context:

Creative expression forms the part of extra-curricular activities; that provide and extensive exposure to the students for channelizing their creative expression as well as improving their ability to interpret the contextual frame work in relation to the main theme.

The magazine encompasses a wide range of issues that includes scientific attitude, environmental awareness, life style, informative assays on various topics, social economical and literary creations like poems, gazals and biographical writings. The multiplicity of the topics is an opportunity for students to comprehend the wider possibilities of its formation.

The Practice:

'Akshar' acts as an impressive mean to accelerate the creative ability of the students. The special issues of magazine includes issue on birth centenary of Late Shankarraoji Chavhan (2019-20) and memoirs on the celebration of golden jubilee of the college (2016-17). It is imperative on the part of students to know the role of leaders, great personalities a nation building.

This year's special issue on 'Birth Centenary of Late Dr. Shankarrao Chavhan' includes the informative, autobiographical and biographical writings on his role in the development of the Marathwada region, his constructive work as union home minister and above all, his visionary attitude towards the development of agriculture, infrastructure, education and trade.

We have an ambitious and talented team of student-editors mentoring staff writers, while providing our team with publishing and journalistic growth opportunities, we are able to provide our readers with genuine advice to help them to make college magazine is ultimate national daily guide to college life.

Evidence of success:

Our sincere efforts with a sacred purpose have been backed by the managerial council of the institute. There has been a substantial increase in the numbers of the articles not only from students but also from other eminent people across society.

Resources required:

The most important resource is the human resource-motivated students, teachers, staff, well wishers etc. Finance to meet various expenses.

PRINCIPAL
Lal Bahadur Shastri Mahavidyalaya
Dharmabad. Dist. Nanded